

TENURE-TRACK FACULTY POSITION ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR

IE University's Business School (www.ie.edu) invites qualified candidates in the area of Organizational Behavior to apply for a tenure-track position for its graduate programs. The position is at the Assistant Professor level in the Department of Human Resources and Organizational Behavior beginning September 2019.

The successful candidate will be expected to publish in top-tier peer-reviewed international journals, to teach high level MBA and executive courses, to interact and work closely with faculty from other disciplines, and to provide intellectual leadership in his/her area. Applicants will have earned a PhD from a recognized school in a relevant discipline (entry level candidates can be close to completion). Previous experience in teaching is a plus, Spanish proficiency is desirable, but not required. Salary for this position will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

IE University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and strongly encourages applications from individuals who will expand the ethnic and gender diversity of our faculty.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, a one-page research statement, a statement of teaching philosophy, copies of recent publications, contact information for three references, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., teaching evaluations). Shortlisted candidates will provide reference letters.

We will be holding interviews at the Academy of Management meeting in Chicago in August. To be considered for an interview slot, please submit your application in electronic form with the subject heading OB Vacancy by July 13, 2018. We will receive applications until the end of October 2018. The search will continue until the position is filled.

Sara Flores
Recruitment Coordinator
Email: aombs@ie.edu
Tel.:+ 34 91 5689781

About the school:

The level of quality of IE master's and executive education programs has positioned the school among the best in the world. IE faculty is comprised of multi-cultural, exceptional, young and dynamic scholars from all areas of management, who help our students to develop their full potential from different perspectives. IE is located in Madrid, Spain, in the heart of the financial district. Madrid is a vibrant, modern and cosmopolitan capital city of 5+ million that offers an enormous range of professional growth and leisure opportunities. To learn more about IE Business School and our Faculty, please visit www.ie.edu