TENURE-TRACK FACULTY POSITION
IN INFORMATION SYSTEMS

IE University´s School of Business www.ie.edu invites applications for tenure-track positions at the Assistant professor level in the Information Systems and Technology Department, starting in the 2019 academic year. Our school has a group of dynamic scholars working in all areas of management and we are looking to expand our faculty. We have openings for our graduate and undergraduate programs.

The successful candidates will be expected to have an active research program resulting in publications in top-tier peer-reviewed journals. For the graduate level position, they will be teaching high-level MBA and executive courses. For the undergraduate level position, they will teach undergraduate level courses. For both positions: they will interact and work closely with faculty from other disciplines as well as provide intellectual leadership in his/her area. Applicants will have earned a PhD from a recognized university in a relevant discipline (entry-level candidates can be close to completion). Previous experience in teaching is a plus and Spanish proficiency is desirable, but not required. Salary for this position will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Preference will be given to candidates that complement our existing research strengths in the following (but not limited to) areas: IT strategy and innovation, e-business, smart cities, e-health, big data and business analytics, machine learning, cybersecurity, and emergent technologies (e.g., Blockchain, AI, VR/AR, IoT).

IE Business School is an Equal Opportunity Employer and strongly encourages applications from individuals who will expand the ethnic and gender diversity of our faculty.

Applications should include a cover letter and vitae, a research statement, a statement of teaching philosophy, copies of recent publications, contact information for three references, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., teaching evaluations). Shortlisted candidates will provide reference letters.

We will be holding online interviews in the fall. To be considered, please send your application to Sara Flores, Recruitment Coordinator at isrecruiting@ie.edu. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

ABOUT IE Business School: IE Business School's masters' and executive education programs are positioned as the best in the world according to international rankings. IE faculty is comprised of research-focused, multi-cultural and dynamic scholars from all areas of management, committed to help students to develop their full potential from different perspectives. IE Business School is located in Madrid, Spain, in the heart of the financial district. Madrid is a vibrant, modern and cosmopolitan capital city of 5+ million that offers an enormous range of professional growth and leisure opportunities. To learn more about IE Business School and our Faculty, please visit http://www.ie.edu/business-school/