Private Equity Analyst at Mark

The MIF at IE is a challenging but very rewarding experience. The alumni community understands that IE prepares his students extremely well technically and so they are constantly looking for talent from the MIF, which is how I landed my current position at MARK. In my view, the reason why we are so better prepared is the faculty of teachers. Our professors are successful professionals in the finance sector with real experience, which translates into a richer learning experience since they know the tools we need to succeed in the field and make sure we are equipped to perform well in such a competitive sector.

If you are looking to understand detailed valuation techniques, how to put together a portfolio, build financial models all while building up your network, I can wholeheartedly recommend the Master in Finance course at IE Business school. You will spend a year alongside some of the smartest and driven students, learning under people with real life experience at some of the best institutions in finance. I saw many students manage to transition to their dream job after the program, and personally got my current position after a referral from a colleague in my course. In summary, my year at IE was hands down the most exciting, challenging and rewarding period of my life, it was over too fast.
