IE University's School of Global and Public Affairs (IEGPA) seeks applicants for a position at the rank of Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in Political-Economy with a substantive focus on comparative political-economy and/or applied game theory. We are especially interested in scholars whose research addresses issues of technological change and innovation. The successful candidate should demonstrate capacity to produce publications in top peer-reviewed outlets, both generalist and field journals, in the coming years.

We also seek academics with the capacity to engage in policy relevant work, and with a commitment to institution-building: applying for research grants, participating in affiliated research centers and academic programs, and expanding the IEGPA's current network and partnerships.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, a job market paper, and three academic references. Candidates must have a PhD from a recognized Department of Political Science or Economics, or demonstrate clear evidence that the PhD will be complete by July, 2020. Please apply by Dec. 15th, 2019 via INTERFOLIO at: apply.interfolio.com/70423 Contact Sara Flores Sara.Flores@ie.edu with questions regarding the application process.

The IEGPA is part of IE University, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain; and is a full-member of the Association of Professional Schools in International Affairs (APSIA). We are committed to world-class professional education and academic research in the social sciences, public policy, and international affairs.

We offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and student body are highly diverse and international. IE University is strongly committed to non-discriminatory hiring practices, and encourages applications from individuals who will further expand the diversity of our faculty.
