

TENURE-TRACK FACULTY POSITIONS IN INFORMATION SYSTEMS

The Information Systems and Technology Department at IE University's School of Business <http://www.ie.edu/business-school/> invites applications for tenure-track positions at the Assistant professor level to start in September 2020. The IS&T department boasts a diverse and international faculty of Engineers, Computer Scientists, Social Scientists, Applied Econometricians, Computational Linguists, and IT Leaders.

We seek high quality researchers aiming to publish in top-tier peer-reviewed journals. Interdisciplinary research is welcome and encouraged. Successful candidates would also be excellent teachers in the undergraduate and/or graduate levels. Teaching opportunities also exist at the Executive MBA levels for the right candidate. While applying please add the subject IS Undergrad or IS Grad to direct your application to the right pool. Teaching experience and Spanish proficiency are desirable, but not required.

Applicants must have earned a PhD in a relevant discipline and from a recognized school, by the date of the appointment. We prefer candidates that complement our existing research strengths in the following areas: IT strategy and innovation, economics of Information Systems, e-business, smart cities, e-health, big data and business analytics, machine learning, cybersecurity, and emergent technologies.

Please include a cover letter and vitae, a research statement, a statement of teaching philosophy, copies of recent publications, contact information for three references, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., teaching evaluations). Shortlisted candidates will provide reference letters.

We will be holding interviews at INFORMS 2019 Conference and ICIS 2019.

The search will continue until the position is filled.

For an interview at INFORMS, send your application by October 15th

For an interview at ICIS, send your application by November 15th. Selected candidates may be invited to a preliminary screening interview via Skype.

The search will continue until the position is filled.

Please send your application in electronic form with the subject heading IS undergrad or IS Grad to
